File sizes may differ on different computers.

Email 1/2 – Strategic National Risk Assessment (SNRA). Unclassified documentation.

These are filesize-optimized PDFs, with vector-image replicas of the original raster figures and other internal optimizations that preserve the exact appearance of the original file when printed.¹ The purpose was to get the files small enough to email to whistleblower resources with size-constrained inboxes. The original electronic versions of these documents are in https://5usc2302.github.io/risk/Full documentation/Original versions.

I crossed out the draft labels and wrote in the finalization date above the first label in each major part or volume. In most cases that was October 2, 2015, when FEMA began claiming this updated risk assessment as the authority for its updated requirements on state and local partners (https://www.fema.gov/sites/default/files/2020-06/national_preparedness_goal_2nd_edition.pdf).

In case this email doesn't get to your inbox [it is very large], the attachments listed below are also at <https://5usc2302.github.io/risk/>.
